WINDSOR HIGH SCHOOL – A WORLD OF ACTION

From the bewilderment of freshman days to the anticipation of graduation, life at W.H.S. has brought us a stimulating atmosphere of perpetual action. From the classes, where we perform a chemistry experiment or record a foreign language, to the activities, ranging from dances to enthusiastic basketball games, we have experienced constant progression of the body, mind, and spirit in seeking our individual goals.

So what if Lou's a Senior . . . our rings are brighter!

Too bad about that sign!

"Guess maybe I'm carrying too many books."

Glynn, Jim, and Rudy exchange pictures.

Windsor High School – A World of Action

"I'd rather fight than switch to a Honda!"

"Who says I'm odd?"

"Now don't fly away!"

"Did someone want to take a candid?"

Hey! Where's your other shoe?

"Hang on Sloopy!"

Next in the Line of Fashion

Two of Windsor's Big Wheels.

Four years of crazy, unpredictable supercalafragilistic fads have transformed W.H.S. into a memorable history of fashions and flurries. Short skirts, culottes, patches, sandals, coffee beans, poor boy sweaters, rawhide ribbons, desert boots, tennis sweaters, cranberry and navy blue have given a variety and vividness of colors and textures to the halls and classrooms of W.H.S. The students follow and faithfully institute the trends, trials, and dares of the ever-approaching and quickly passing years.

Held fast are the memories of the fun and frolics which we have experienced during the months of lively school life and as a part of the ever-changing times. Yesterday, "bobby socks" and sneakers were "in"; today, the "total look"; tomorrow, well, who knows . . . ?

Paving the Way to Success

Often the least thought of, and yet the most important, aspect of our high school years is the education which we have been so fortunate to receive. Under the guidance of our teachers, we have questioned, studied, and formulated ideas for our future lives. The studies we have undertaken have not only served to guide us toward a particular goal in life, but have also prepared us to meet the many challenges of the adult world. Providing the opportunity to acquire a superior background of training for future educational and vocational pursuits, our educational program has contributed to our physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Designed to promote ethical standards and ideals, this program has assisted us in moving toward our goal of responsible citizenship.

Supplying Creative Outlets for Talent

Classical Club members don Roman togas for their annual Roman Banquet.

With the end of each school day, the activities of Windsor High do not stop. Rather, at the sound of the 2:15 bell, the hustle and bustle increases as students hurry to numerous clubs and organizations. Because of the extreme diversity of these groups, every student is afforded an opportunity to develop both his interests and his talents.

In the clubs and organizations of W.H.S., students can perform on a trampoline or debate foreign policy. They can learn mathematical tricks or attend a Roman banquet. Future doctors, nurses, and teachers can hear interesting speakers who explain the intricacies of these professions.

Doubly enriched by these activities, students enjoy themselves while they learn.

Beginning in September, week days fill the corridors of W.H.S. with busy, enthusiastic students and faculty. Hurrying to class to beat the 8:15 bell, gabbing in the halls, and rushing to their next classes within the three-minute time lapse, the girls and the guys anxiously anticipate 2:15, weekends, and vacations.

Bringing a peacefulness to the corridors of W.H.S., the busyness moves out of the school to friendly gatherings after the last bell, to football games on Saturdays, and to parties during Christmas vacation. Then shopping sprees for clothes and special gifts, and pleasure jaunts for snacks and sodas create a bristling business for the shops and stores of Windsor Green and for those along the thronged sidewalks of the modern shopping center.

The Field of Action

Ishbiblioatenboatenbobobidittendahtenwadadeeda . . . FIGHT!

"Go you Indians! Scalp 'em!"

Of all the activities at Windsor High, sports events receive the greatest attention and popularity. During the school year, most students enjoy participating in athletic activities, not only on varsity teams but in intramural games and gymnastic events as well. In the fall, cross-country, soccer, and football are the main attractions. In the winter, basketball captures the spotlight. With the coming of spring, the boys center their interest on baseball. Through the year we see an endless cycle of sports attractions, important, not only to the participants, but to the enthusiastic students who support W.H.S. teams — win or lose!

Fond and True

Just as important as the education we receive in high school is the pleasure and enjoyment we experience during these years. The extracurricular activities we participate in for sheer pleasure are essential to our development as well-rounded individuals. School activities provide many rewarding and lasting memories of our high school years. The students of the Class of 1966 will always treasure the fond memories of such activities as the majestic and unique Junior Prom, ΜΕΛΛΟΤ ΚΑΛΕΣ, the hilarious Class Night, our successful Senior Kick-Off Dance that got our football team off to a spirited start, and our wild and woolly Sadie Hawkins Dance. These activities have helped us to develop in mind and spirit and have provided us with a wealth of enjoyment which we will carry with us always.

"Is it really time to go?"

"Do I have to read ALL those catalogues?"

We are the Seniors, mighty, mighty Seniors!

The Senior: Superior, Searching . . .

All Seniors maintain two outstanding facets. Outwardly, they assume a lofty air of superiority; inwardly, they coddle the realization of their own inexperience in life.

In the company of others, the senior projects an air of authority, and rightly so. He and his compatriots head the Student Council, Student Patrol, and National Honor Society. From the ridiculous Sadie Hawkins to the sublime Senior Prom, he and his classmates contribute substantially to the social activity at WHS. His mere presence commands the respect of his "underlings" — freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

Yet a deeper, inner facet humbles him. He begins to doubt his own ability to deal successfully with the future. He knows that his teachers are preparing him for the toughest test of all — the test of life. And he looks to that test with mingled emotions of pride and apprehension.

MR. DANIEL HOWARD

"The Only Gift Is a Portion of Thyself."

During our years at Windsor High School, each of us has, at one time or another, observed the venerable figure of Mr. Daniel Howard. While most of us are aware of Mr. Howard's more notable accomplishments, we have actually known but a minute segment of his distinguished life in his daily visits to WHS.

Born in 1864, when the Civil War was still raging in this country, Mr. Howard has led a life of purposeful activity. He acquired a high school education almost solely through his own efforts. These self-endeavors eventually gained him acceptance into Brown University, from which he graduated in 1893, a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

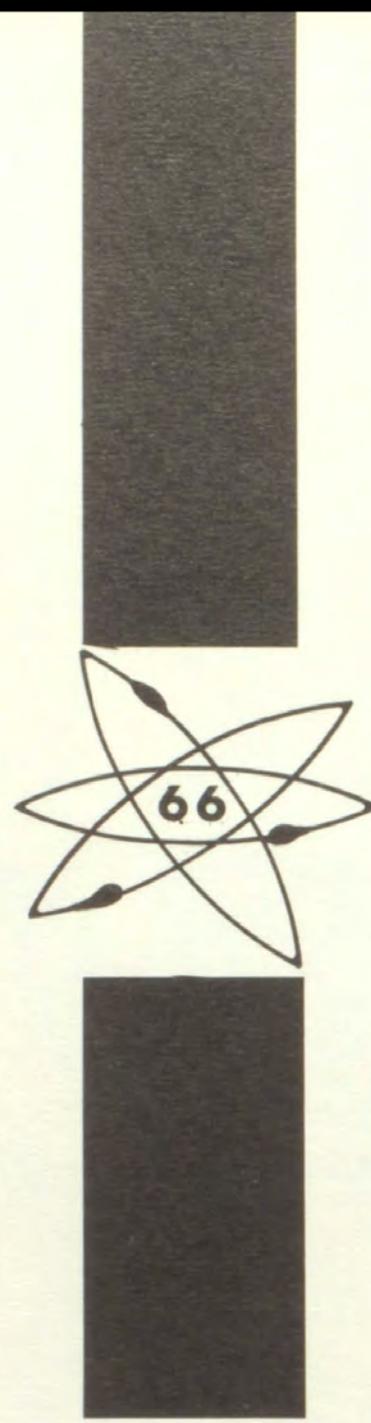

Widely known and respected as a lecturer, writer, and civic leader, Mr. Howard is best known to Windsor residents as an educator and historian. For twenty-four years, he served as Windsor's first full time Superintendent of Schools, during which time he was a delegate to the Federation of Education Association in Geneva, sponsored by the League of Nations. Since his retirement in 1934, Mr. Howard has held the title of Superintendent Emeritus.

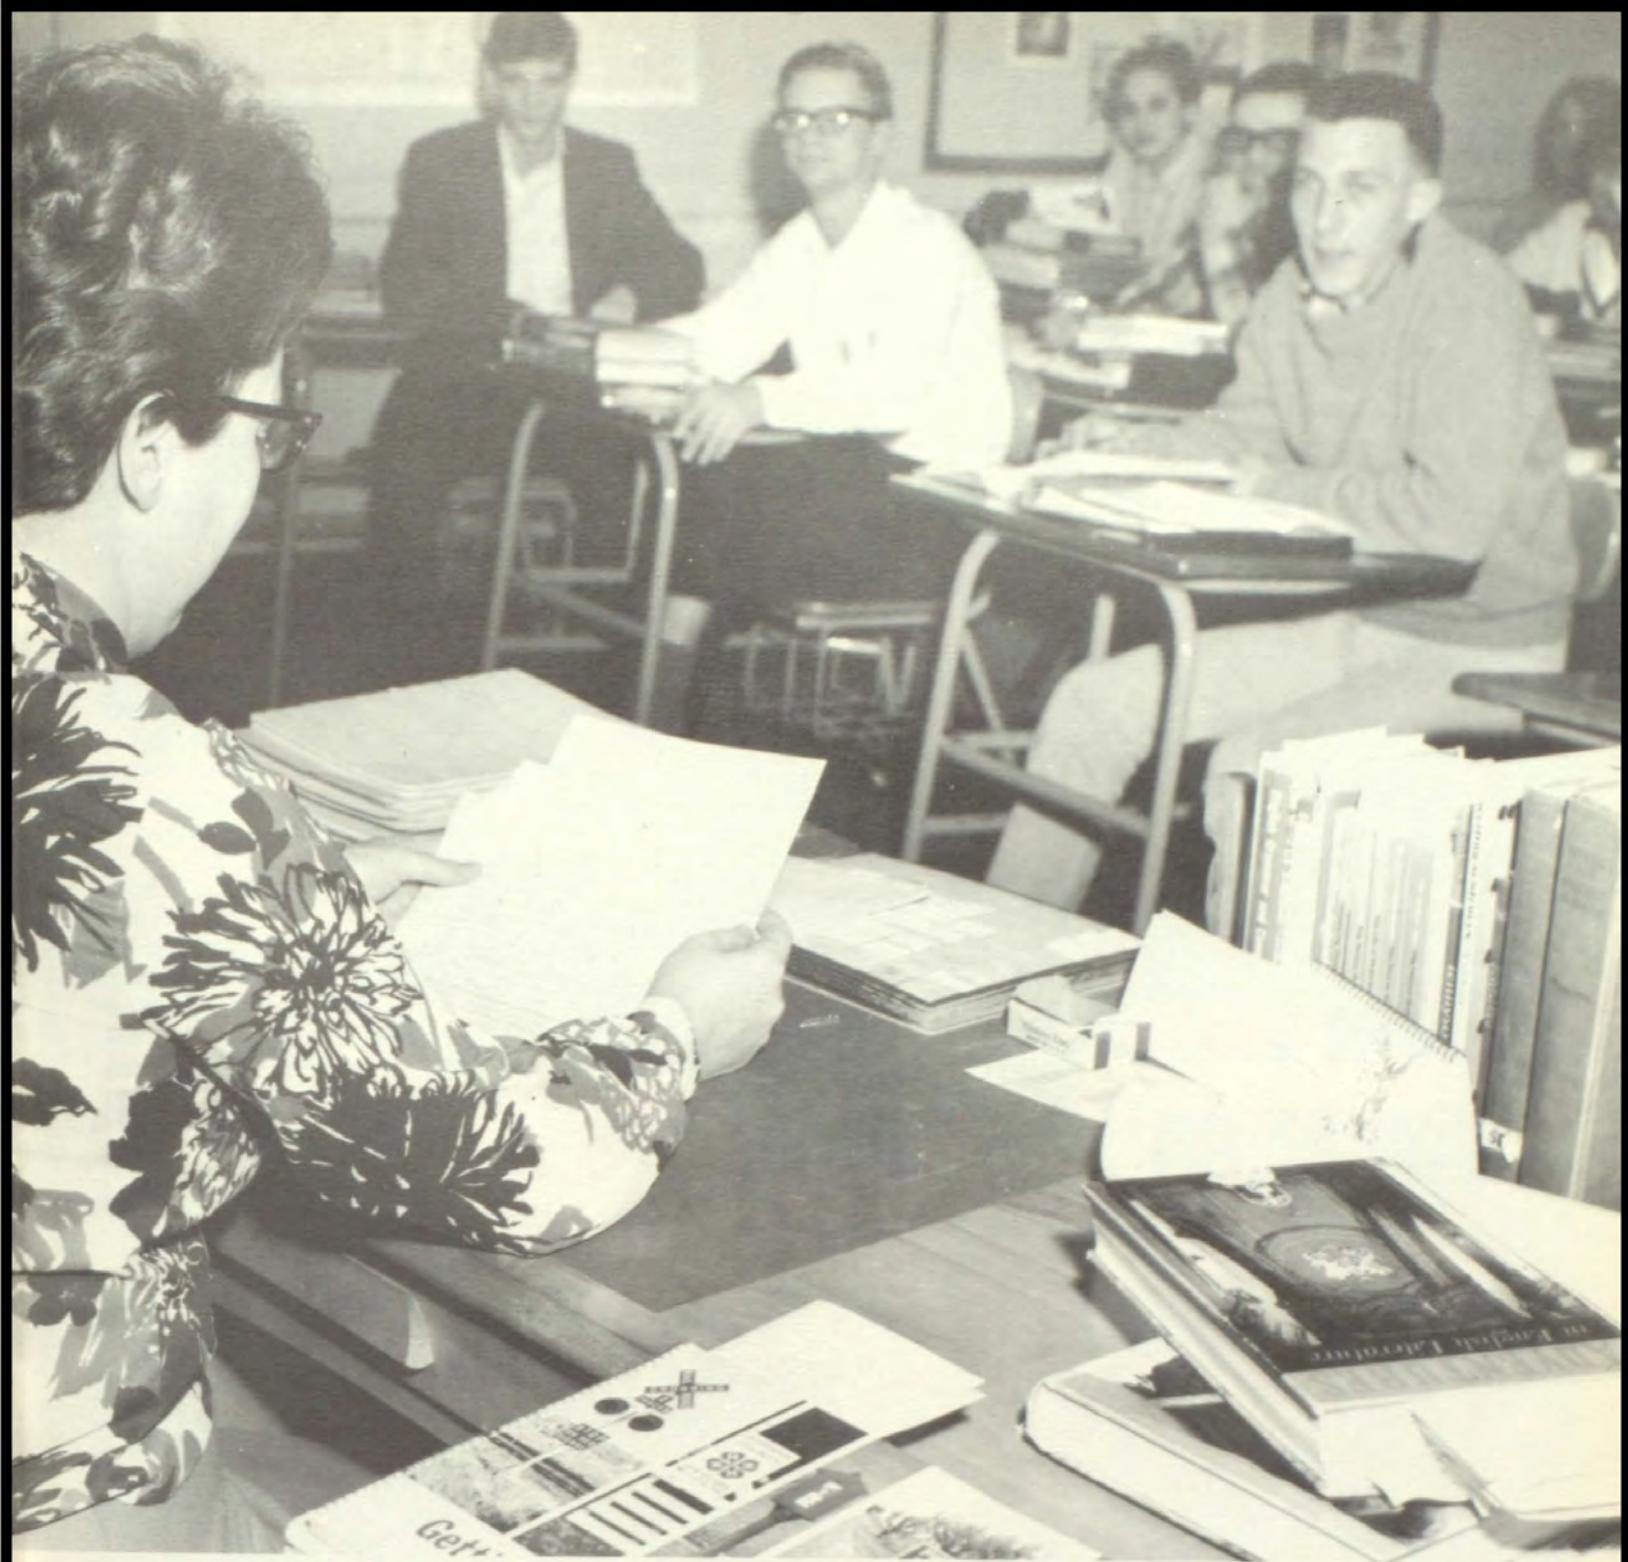

As an historian, Mr. Howard has made numerous contributions to his society. A former president of the Windsor Historical Society, he has written four books, two dealing with the history of Windsor and two with United States history, and has frequently contributed articles to newspapers and magazines.

Remarkably, Mr. Howard's graduation from Brown did not mark the termination of his education; rather, it marked a point of starting anew. Seizing the opportunity to learn from each new experience — and his experiences have been many — Mr. Howard has become one of the most learned men of our time. Even in the later years of his life, he has taken an active interest in world affairs. In August, 1959, Mr. Howard travelled abroad, spending two weeks in Russia to observe the education of Soviet youth and to study the Russian mode of living. At the age of ninety-four he was believed to be the oldest American ever to have visited the Soviet Union in any capacity, and his knowledge of the Russian language, one of the many languages with which he is familiar, added much to the value of his trip. His presence in the Soviet Union prompted the Moscow News to comment, "Among the many tourists from the U.S.A. now in Moscow, one cannot help but notice an energetic old man who, in spite of his 94 years, came all the way from the United States to see something of our country."

Nor can we, in Windsor, help noticing this "teacher of children, leader of teachers." As we, the Class of 1966, dedicate this book to Mr. Daniel Howard, we dedicate ourselves to the fine example and high ideals with which he has inspired us.

WITH KNOWLEDGE AND CONCERN THEY TAUGHT . . .

Dr. Russell: Books lend support to a learned man.

Administration

It is the aim of the Board of Education and the faculty of the Windsor High School to present the student with a flexible and individually adaptable program of instruction that will (1) provide him the opportunity to acquire a superior background of training for advanced educational and vocational pursuits; (2) promote desirable work habits; (3) develop self-reliance and self-direction; (4) insure physical, mental, and emotional well-being; and (5) meet the needs, interests, and capacities of the individual. Among its objectives is the training of students in the wise use of leisure time and the inculcating in him of those ethical standards and ideals which contribute to his social adjustment, economic stability, and responsible citizenship.

The program promotes the idea, in both principle and practice, that the student should recognize, accept, and assume his duties and responsibilities as a person and as a citizen and that he should understand also the rights and privileges with which American citizenship endows him.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Francis Cunningham, Thomas Buckley, Gerald Mahony, Herbert Duke (Chairman), Charles Wall, Robert Smith, Edith Treadway.

English Department

The English language is used daily by millions of people in America and Europe. It is the means of communication by which these peoples express themselves through literature and speech. Consequently, the faculty of W.H.S. is sincerely concerned that each student be trained to express himself clearly, directly, and concisely.

However, English is more than a means of communication; it is an art — an art through which each individual learns to think and communicate with civilizations of the past, present, and future, so that he may understand clearly the world in which he lives. Extensive courses in grammar, literature, and composition instill in the students of W.H.S. an appreciation of the world's literary heritage and its importance in our changing world.

Miss Boyle, Miss Kane, Mr. Stone and Mrs. Dike review some recordings of poetic verse.

History Department

For some, learning about the history of the United States and of other countries of the world poses no easy task. However, the history department at W.H.S. so enlivens its courses with thought-provoking films, valuable reference materials, and their illustrative lectures, that the student cannot help becoming engrossed in the action.

The untiring efforts of the staff aim to instill in these future electors of the United States a more thorough understanding of the social, political, and economic forces of the world from the early Western Civilization to Contemporary Issues of American Democracy. Through classroom discussions, guest speakers, films, and special assignments, students examine the mechanisms of local, state, and national governments and of various political institutions and traditions.

Mrs. Goetz and Mr. Johnson make effective use of overhead projector.

Math Department

With the continual advances and victories of science comes an increase in the complexity of our world. Therefore, a means of understanding and working with these technological implements and scientific break-throughs must be developed and improved. This means, or drawbridge, of understanding is found in the language of mathematics.

By studying and working with the mysteries and marvels of numbers and their combinations, one is able to cross into the mathematical regions of formulas, phenomena, equations, and relationships. At W.H.S. students grow in an enriched atmosphere of intense mathematical instruction.

Programs in Basic Mathematics, Algebra I and II, Geometry, Review Mathematics, Trigonometry and Statistics, and Elementary Analysis are offered to all students who are willing to accept the challenge of this mathematical world.

Science Department

Mr. Campbell, Mr. Horst, and Mr. Doe.

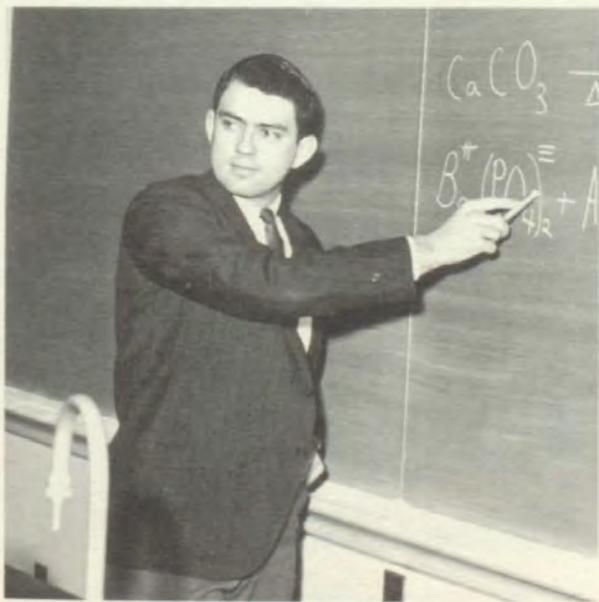

Atomic bombs, nuclear reactions, rockets to the moon, miraculous cures for diseases — all these are but stepping stones to the vast future of science. What the world was and is like, and how it will change in the future are areas open for exploration and examination by all curious minds who wish to better comprehend and cope with our rapidly changing universe.

Earth Science, Biology I and II, Modern Physical Science, Chemistry, and Physics — courses just touching on these areas of exploration — illustrate to Windsor's students the increasing need for continual experiment, research, and discovery in the scientific field. Students at W.H.S. are fortunate in having such a qualified Science Department to prepare them to fill that need.

Miss Edith Bradley operates mimeograph machine.

Mrs. Marie Berman, Miss Mary MacNeil, and Mrs. Judith Di Tommaso talk after class.

Mr. Charles North (head of Business Department) and Mr. Richard Crockett.

Business Department

Today's world is an active one, and today's business world, in accordance, demands active, highly skilled workers. Windsor High's business department trains students for today's demanding positions. Through the guidance of this department, future secretaries, bookkeepers, and office workers learn the intricacies of their chosen fields. In addition, instructors strive to instill responsibility, courtesy, and confidence in their students.

When the student following a business program leaves Windsor High, he is well prepared to meet the demands of the business world.

Mrs. Alyce Bacon (Art).

Teachers in the Art and Music Departments guide their students in appreciating the beauty of our culture. Students learn that a painting or a piece of music can inspire subtle, poignant emotions or vivid, startling ones. But while introducing the works of masters, instructors also urge individual creation on the part of their students. When a student creates a particularly inspiring piece, his work is brought to the student body's attention. Paintings are displayed in the school showcases, and the band and choirs perform before the audiences of our numerous assemblies.

Mr. Dimock talks with Mr. Govoni
(head of Industrial Arts Department).

Homemaking and Industrial Arts Department

Developing the girls and boys of W.H.S. for their future lives proves a mighty task for the Homemaking and Industrial Arts departments. Guiding students through courses in cooking, fashion, budgeting, interior decoration, and nutrition, the Homemaking Department prepares girls for the complex role of homemaker.

While the girls work on their model homes, the boys develop their particular talents in the shop with instruction in metal working, printing, drafting, and wood working. By undertaking these areas of active learning, the homemakers, engineers, and craftsmen of tomorrow master the skills of their chosen fields, and eagerly anticipate the challenges of the future.

The Homemaking and Industrial Arts departments of W.H.S. continue to prepare their students thoroughly for family and vocational duties.

Guidance

By encouraging students to make the best use of all their abilities and to evaluate these abilities preparatory to their choice of curricula, the Guidance Department offers invaluable assistance to all students. But for Seniors, the Guidance Department holds a special significance. Miss Devine, Mr. Rimosukas, and Mr. Sauve skillfully guide Seniors in their selection of colleges, nursing or business schools, or places of employment that will best meet their individual needs. Part of their responsibility includes the arranging of visits to Windsor High from various representatives of educational and training institutions and of area businesses who better acquaint the students with a variety of schools and vocations.

Physical Education Department

An important phase of the modern program of liberal education is physical education, for it conditions strong bodies and alert minds. Through varied programs of individual and team sports, physical education instructors provide students with ways of fulfilling both physical and emotional needs. In addition, the P.E. program cultivates life-long recreational interests and stresses the importance of good sportsmanship in every activity. For those who wish to lead and assist others, the position of student gym assistant provides the perfect opportunity.

Nurse and Dietician

The school nurse and the school dietitian take a good deal of responsibility for the well-being of Windsor High students.

Responsible for the over-all health of Windsor students, Mrs. Auschenbach plays an important role at WHS. Her office is a haven of quiet and restfulness for those students who are ill or injured during the school day. She stands by constantly, ready to offer ailing students a sympathetic ear and gentle efficiency.

Mrs. Stoller, school dietitian, assumes the responsibility for planning the well-balanced meals served by our cafeteria. She and her staff do a remarkable job of preparing and serving our lunches with skill and efficiency.

Mrs. Estelle Aschenbach, Nurse.

Dietician and staff: FRONT ROW: Mrs. Mary Peteroski, Mrs. Grace Henderson, Mrs. Helen Bazzano, Mrs. Jeanne Drake, Mrs. Helen Edgar. SECOND ROW: Mrs. Anna Denardo, Mrs.

Teresa Rudnansky, Mrs. Magueritte Somers, Mrs. Josephine Jackson, Mrs. Dorothy Stoller (Dietician), Mrs. Maude Love, Mrs. Irene Yuska.

Mrs. Josephine Mack, Miss Joan Burns, Miss Jean Pierson.

Office and Custodians

For a school with an enrollment of twelve hundred students, an efficient and competent staff of office workers and custodians is an absolute essential. By taking care of many demanding secretarial duties, both great and small, by giving assistance to the students whenever possible, and by making those most necessary announcements each morning, the office staff contributes substantially to the efficient operation of W.H.S.

In addition, the custodians keep our school clean and attractive and undertake hundreds of other jobs which we often overlook. In these ways, they make all our school events and activities more enjoyable and provide us with a school of which we can be proud.

Experienced and well-trained in their occupations, the office staff and custodians — co-operative, pleasant, and patient — work continually and steadily for the betterment of W.H.S.

WITH INTERESTS AND SKILLS WE JOINED . . .

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

The French Club meets monthly, at which times it works at its purpose of promoting interest in France, its literature, and its language. Students studying, or having studied French, are eligible to join. Advised by Mr. George Aubin and Miss Joyce Dion, the club increases its knowledge and appreciation of France by enjoying slides and films, French songs, skits, and games. Much looked forward to each year is the French Christmas Party, prepared and served in a truly French manner.

CLASSICAL CLUB

Any student who is taking Latin or who has completed one year of the language is eligible for membership in the Classical Club. Advised by Miss Anna May Kove, the club's aim is to develop in its members a deeper appreciation of the language, literature, and customs of the Romans. The main event of this organization is its annual Latin Banquet, in which participants dress in classical costumes and enjoy a truly Roman feast.

FOREIGN POLICY CLUB

Advised by Mrs. Hazel Sullivan, the Foreign Policy Club, a member of the Student Branch of the Foreign Policy Association of Greater Hartford, is composed of students who are interested in foreign affairs. This year's officers were President Neil Newman, Vice-President Susan Stadler, Secretary Marcia McConnell, and Treasurer Linda Nelson. Besides having speakers, films, and attending meetings in Greater Hartford, the club's main objective is to prepare for the Model UN Assembly held every May, in which each participating school represents three countries.

EL CIRCULO ESPAÑOL

Under the advisory of Miss Telfer, the Spanish Club pursues enrichment material through slides, films, and guest speakers. President Susan Birge, Vice-President Tina Tryon, Secretary Kathy Jones, and Treasurer Harvey Noel lead the club in numerous other activities, highlighted by the Christmas Party a la Espana held every year.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

The Future Teachers Club is an organization open to all students in grades 9-12 who are interested in careers in education. The club is advised by Mr. Gille Sauve. Monthly meetings are held which consist of lectures by guest speakers, films on education, and trips to colleges and technical schools. Each year members are given the opportunity to observe a classroom of their grade choice. Many senior members spend an entire day observing an experienced teacher at work.

MU ALPHA THETA

Mu Alpha Theta, an affiliate of the National High School and Junior College Mathematics Club, is advised by Mrs. Goetz. Students in grades 11 and 12 who have attained a "B" average in all their subjects may join. The club holds monthly meetings at which members study phases of advanced math, and review for nationally approved contests. Also at meetings, members hear interesting lectures from guest speakers, and take visits to industrial concerns where they can see mathematical concepts applied.

CLUB

The Creative Writing Club is open to any student in grades 10-12 who enjoys writing. Advised by Mrs. Aileen Dike, the club strives to instill in the writing of its members originality, clarity, and beauty. Members compose stories, essays, and poetry, and study different forms of good writing as well. Valuable knowledge is gained by the open discussion of each person's works. The Pen and Ink, a booklet published each year by the club, contains the year's best original writing.

LIBRARY

Primarily a service club, the Library Club is composed of students who willingly give of their time in assisting the librarian, Mrs. Sullivan, and all students who use the Mary M. Wilson Library, as well. Club members, who familiarize themselves with many books and indexes, at the same time learn helpful library processes. In addition to providing an invaluable service to the school, the Library Club has a high vocational and educational value.

DRAMA CLUB

Advised by Mr. Cirillo, the Drama Club presents all W.H.S. students with the opportunity to take part in exciting creative endeavors. Some Thespians gain valuable experience acting in school plays, while others learn to operate lighting equipment and to perform necessary behind-the-scenes tasks of the stage crew; still others contribute to the Drama Club by painting scenery and by helping with make-up and costuming. Each year the whole student body may look forward to the plays presented by this club, and may anticipate the improvements which come with each new year.

NURSE'S ASSISTANTS

The Nurse's Assistants are a group of dedicated girls who willingly give up their study hall periods in order to help Mrs. Aschenbach, the school nurse, in her job. The girls, in return, receive a valuable introduction to medical processes, and become familiar with hospital records and files. These girls also have the opportunity to treat minor injuries and to observe the daily activities of an experienced nurse.

FUTURE PHYSICIANS CLUB

The Future Physicians Club, advised by Mr. Blake, is open to any student who has a sincere interest in medicine, biology, or physiology. Members of the club hear lectures from noted guest speakers, watch movies pertaining to medicine, and visit hospitals for eyewitness views of the doctors' world. The club also had biological labs during which the members study life in all forms, and learn how to operate delicate microscopes.

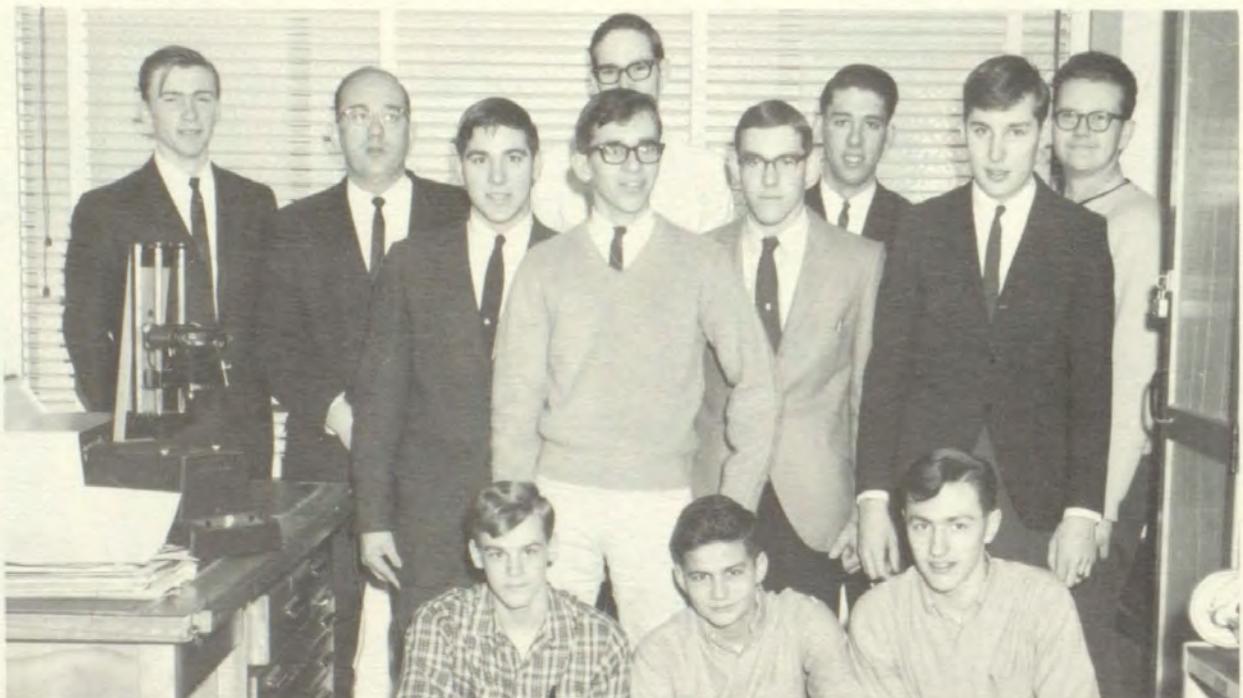

The Future Nurses Club is open to all students who are interested in nursing. Members learn about the rigors and rewards of a nursing career. At the monthly meetings, guest speakers give the members a greater insight into the nursing profession. The club also tours hospitals and watches surgical films. Advised by Mrs. Aschenbach, this rewarding organization makes its members familiar with the qualities essential to a good nurse.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

STAGE TECHS

A behind-the-scenes service committee, the Stage Techs are responsible for the backstage technicalities of school and community productions. Advised by Mr. Ard Dimock, the boys handle all the lighting, scenery, and sound effects, those technical aspects that add to the success of each program.

EDUCATIONAL MEDIA ASSOCIATION

An important service group, the Educational Media Association is a group of dedicated boys who work to promote audio-visual aids in the curriculum. Under Mr. Ard Dimock's advisory, they not only service equipment, but they prepare slides, overhead projector overlays, and pictures for all the Windsor schools.

TOMAHAWK STAFF

Under the direction of editor-in-chief Marilyn Scoville and assistant editor Robert Munro, the staff of the Tomahawk is perpetually in action producing the eight copies of the newspaper. ABOVE, the news reporters are responsible for the accurate reporting of class, club, and school activities. At RIGHT, the feature reporters write such interesting articles as "Fads and Fashions" and "Cool Notes." BELOW, are pictured the typists, business board, and editors. The advisors to the staff are Miss Bradley and Mr. Boyajian.

SENIOR CHOIR

The two major singing groups at Windsor High are the Senior Choir and Glee Club. The necessity for two individual sections arose from the increased interest of the students in participation in musical productions. Under the direction of Mr. Brown, the choirs practiced during school to prepare for the Christmas Exchange Concerts with Wetherfield High, the "Israel in Egypt" with Weaver High School, and the annual Spring Concert.

GLEE CLUB

CHANSONETTES

Windsor High can be very proud of the Chansonettes, a select group of girls of outstanding singing ability. Under the direction of Mr. Brown, the girls work for long hours after school preparing for school concerts and town functions.

NINTH GRADE CHOIR

directed by Mr. Brown

BAND

Windsor High owes much to its lively band. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Smith, the students in the band practice at least two times a week. For entrance into this group, the student must have at least a rudimentary knowledge of his instrument. The band not only performs for special programs, concerts, and town functions, but it is outstanding in its efforts to arouse school spirit at our rallies, football games, and basketball games.

STUDENT PATROL

Composed of elected juniors and seniors, the Student Patrol is a traffic squad whose aim is to maintain the swift and orderly passage of students through the corridors. Captain Michael Ohliger assigns the posts and manages the patrol. The faculty advisor to the Student Patrol is Miss Catherine Devine.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Although this year's Varsity Football record was not an outstanding one, the team had a great deal of potential. The lack of experienced players and an overwhelming number of injuries during the season left Windsor handicapped. Under the direction of Head Coach Arthur Roache and Assistant Coach Lerario, the team scored two wins, two ties, and four losses. The high point of the season was the 7-0 victory over East Catholic, our greatest rival, who had defeated Hartford Public the previous week.

Next year, the third year of varsity play, should prove quite successful for Windsor, the return of several lettermen and the addition of a number of good J.V. players should give W.H.S. a strong, well-balanced team.

The loss of several lettermen last year left this year's soccer team seriously handicapped. Due to this lack of experienced players, the chances of a winning season were slim. Richard Lazzerini, Joe Slane, and Roger Duncan were the only Senior members on the squad. However, with the return of several experienced players next year, Coach Stevenson can look forward to a winning season.

Encouraging school spirit and enthusiasm for future games, the cheerleaders led the crowd in rousing cheers for Windsor's football, cross-country, soccer, and basketball teams. Well-deserved awards were presented to W.H.S. athletes by their respective coaches in recognition of their outstanding contributions to our school. The highlight of the program was the introduction of the Varsity Basketball team for the 1965-1966 season.

BASEBALL

Windsor High School's baseball team had another winning season in 1965. The team, coached by Mr. Robert Stevenson, compiled an over-all record of ten wins and six losses. The tremendous skill, team work, and co-operation demonstrated by the players contributed much towards making the season a successful one. The team missed the Class A State Tournament by only a slight margin. Everyone anxiously awaits the beginning of this year's baseball season, which should prove to be another successful one. With the loss of only five of last year's members, the team has the experience which could easily lead to a winning season.

ΜΕΛΛΟΣ ΚΑΛΕΙ I

In the temple — the royal couple and the court.

The splendor of ancient Greece filled Windsor High on Saturday night, April 3, 1965, as we, the Class of 1966, presented our Junior Prom. Under the guidance of Gerri Tavalaro, (General Chairman) Debbie Frechette and Mark Henderson (Decorations), Debbie Overbaugh (Bids and Favors), Sandy Zawadski (Invitations), Sandy Walters (Refreshments), and Gil Jacobs (Publicity), our Prom proved an elegant and memorable affair. Queen Geraldine Tavalaro and King Gilbert Jacobs led the Court — Jean Chamblee, Debbie Frechette, Linda Nelson, Debbie Overbaugh, Mary Ellen Stanwick, and Sandy Walters — in the traditional coronation dance amid graceful columns and classic Greek statues. As the strains of the Richard Linson Orchestra dimmed, the rich hues of blue and gold faded into a memory — one which we shall never forget.

Roses and place cards, inscribed in Greek, graced each table.

Do I have to hold this up during the Prom, too?

Pam and her date arrive.

After all that trouble, why doesn't anyone look at the fountain?

Class Night – 1965

Lively entertainment was provided by "The Wanderers" – T. Gormly, J. Davis, M. Nigro, C. Clarke, and L. Nigro.

Gerri Tavalaro and Dave Shramek give a skillful rendition of "Exodus."

The folk songs of "The Independents" added variety to the Class Night program.

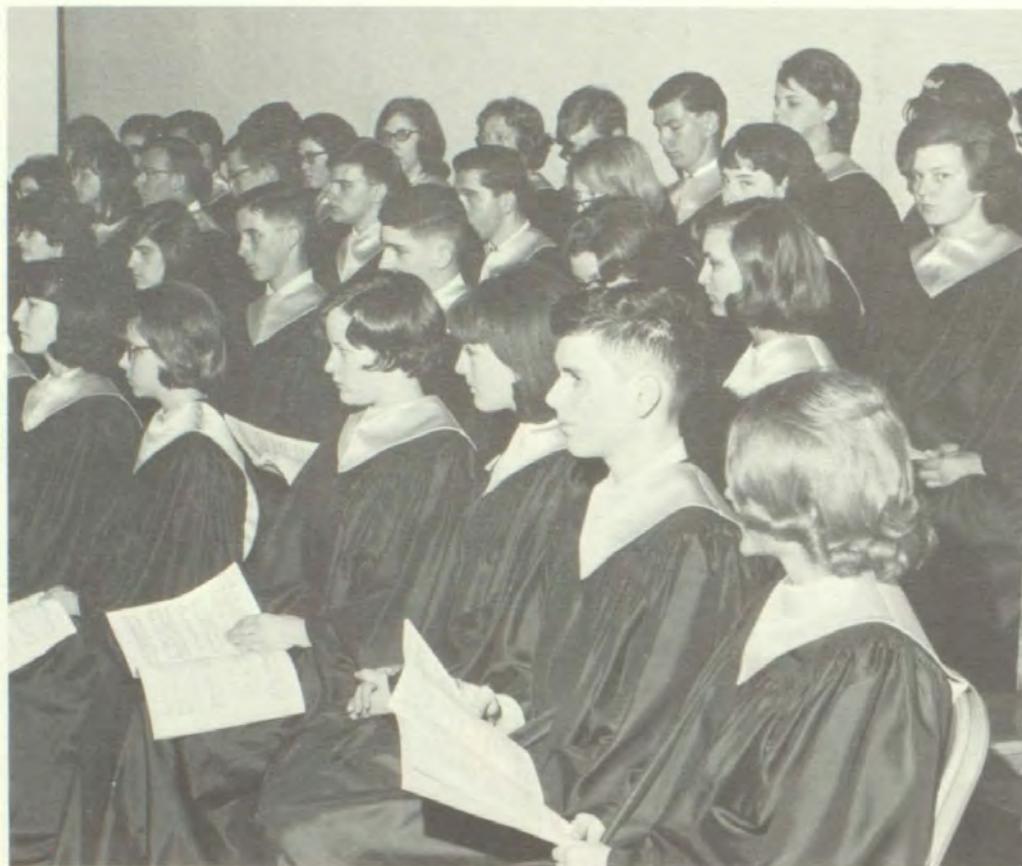

Ambrose tells us that this party was a REAL blast!

CLASS NIGHT

April of 1965, the Student Council sponsored a "Class Night," the first activity of this kind to be held at Windsor High in many years. The purpose of this event was to provide an enjoyable evening of entertainment in which all the classes could participate. Proceeds went to the Student Council Scholarship Fund. While numerous individual acts were presented, the highlight of the evening was the presentation of skits by the Classes of 1965, 1966, and 1968. A revised version of Peyton Place, set in the fictional town of "Windsor Place," constituted the award-winning skit, presented by the Class of 1965. A take-off on Goldfinger, featuring Secret Agent 36-24-36, presented by the Class of 1966, and a satire on a typical school day at WHS performed by the Class of 1968, rounded out the evening. The success of Class Night 1965 offers encouragement for the continuation of this activity as an annual event at Windsor High.

EXCHANGE CONCERTS

A waiting the next number — W.H.S. Senior Choir.

December, 1964 marked the beginning of a most enjoyable tradition at W.H.S. At that time, the choirs of Windsor and Naugatuck High Schools held two Christmas Exchange Concerts. Since that time, several subsequent programs of this nature have been held. In 1965, the Windsor Choir and the Weaver High Orchestra combined forces to give both schools two most impressive performances of Vivaldi's "Gloria". A second set of Christmas Exchange Concerts was held December 10 and 17 with the Wethersfield High School choir. The 1966 concert season ended with the mid-April performance of Handel's "Israel and Egypt" by the joint Windsor-Weaver choirs and orchestras.

Christmas Concert — the result of long hours of tedious rehearsal.

Seniors Send Off the Team

The bulletin board honored members of the Varsity team.

Mark, a man from the team, and Debbie, a cheerleader co-captain, enjoy a dance.

On October 1, 1965, the Class of 1966 presented the Senior Kick-off Dance, one of the most well-attended student activities of the year. Held annually, the night before the first home football game of the season, the Senior Kick-Off has three main purposes: to provide a rousing send-off for our football team, to encourage attendance at football games, and to promote school spirit in general. Senior Kick-Off 1965 will probably be remembered as one of the most unique in recent years, for this year's dance had no music. Due to unavoidable circumstances, the band did not arrive. In any event, the night will certainly be recalled with amused pleasure in years to come.

Terry and Deb really have the beat.

Activities

The Student Council, comprised of representatives of each English Class, provides Windsor High students with a representative government. Headed by officers, elected in the fall of each year by direct student vote, the Student Council has five major objectives: to create and maintain standards of good citizenship, to provide a forum for student expression, to assist in the management of the school, to improve student-faculty and student-administration relationships, and to sponsor school activities. Under the advisorship of Miss Catherine Devine, the Council strives to make the efficient functioning of Windsor High the concern of each student.

Mike Ohliger delivers speech for presidential candidate Mary Ellen Stanwick.

The Student's Voice — the Student Council.

Gee, I wish I could be in with the big guys!

This year's Council has, indeed, been an active body. Under the leadership of President Rudy Arnold, Vice President Dave Johnson, Secretary Barbara Noel, and Treasurer Sue Birge, the Council has sponsored such student activities as dances and Class Night. In addition, the Council has adopted a Chilean girl named America, and has continued its tireless efforts to obtain a foreign exchange student for Windsor High. While this organization is far from attaining all its goals, it has never ceased in its efforts to fulfill its immense obligation to the students of W.H.S.

Come on, Russ, let's get partners!

Candidates for S.C. offices meet the voters at the first dance in September.

Miss America contestants? No, just our Dogpatch gals!

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

At W.H.S., one of the major annual functions is the riotous Sadie Hawkins Dance. On this day, Windsor guys meet their matches as the gals get that marryin' notion and resolve to "git themselves a feller this year!" The highlight of the dance is a skit, presented by the Senior Class, in which the Dogpatch gals offer poor, homely Sadie Hawkins assistance in catching a man. While the girls are "a-plottin' and a-plannin'," the guys prepare a counterplan to preserve their precious freedom.

A feller can build a powerful big thirst running away.

I ain't never gonna catch a man!

The Great Race

Tiny takes a giant head start in the race.

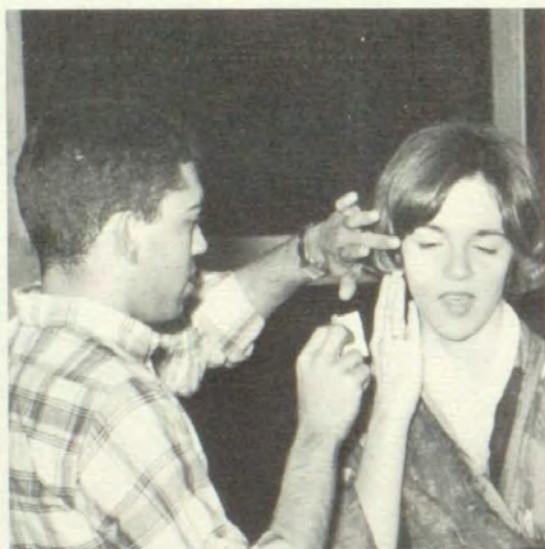

I've got my man right where I want him!

Old Man Mose calmly observes the action.

Winn, Barb, Darryl, and Kathy toast to a job well done.

Let me see, which is smoother?

Now, Barb, don't blink!

WITH LEADERSHIP AND COUNSEL WE PROCEEDED . . .

And We

1962-1963

As gawky freshmen we did start
Upon our journey to be smart.
Michael O. and David M.
With trust, we followed them,
And they were prepared to assume the part.

1963-1964

Then came September of '63
We were joined by sophomores from Leland P.
The result of the fusion
Was utter confusion
And everywhere, there were new faces to see.

Doug Major, our President, saw us through.
It was his lead that we looked to.
Though our Sophomore Hop
Came close to a flop,
Our car wash raised our spirits anew.

1964-1965

As Juniors we were upperclass!
This action-packed year flew by fast.
Sue Birge 'n' Harv Noel,
Each "hammed" his role
In CLASS NITE — now a memory of the past.

Gil Jacobs, our President, gave us backing,
And saw that school spirit was not lacking.
We showed lots of steam
For our varsity team
With Johnson and Cheney fiercely attacking.

This was the year for our grand Junior Ball,
When we danced in a Classic Greek styled hall;
Geraldine was our queen
At this beautiful scene —
And then we turned to the best year of all.

Were Off . . .

1965-1966

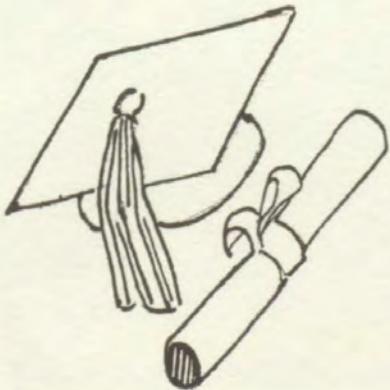

We finally arrived at our great Senior Year,
Our best, yet our saddest: our last to be here.
Miss Kove and Mr. Dowe
Gave the class lots of go,
And with Ohliger again, we had nothing to fear.

October marked our KICK-OFF DANCE –
It was a success, but only by chance.
The band never arrived;
Yet the seniors survived
For it aided our funds and encouraged romance.

Hog-tying SADIE HAWKINS was held in Dogpatch.
The gals found “availerble fellers” to catch.
Sandy’s loose dentures
Matched her corny ventures,
And old cans for the fence we managed to snatch.

Captained by Weigert, football began,
Then soccer, cross country: we watched as they ran.
And Deb and Jean came
To each basketball game
To cheer Ron, Russ, and Kenny, and each other man.

The Senior prom was a memorable date
Which marked the end of a long, patient wait.
After our tests,
We proceeded with zest
To our Banquet and Outing – and both proved first rate.

In June, our diplomas signaled the end
Of the classes we did so long attend.
Whatever the future may hold –
Trials or pleasures untold –
Here's hoping we'll all meet now and again.

TUNXIS - 1966

LITERARY BOARD: Linda Nelson, Janice Paterson (literary editor), Marilyn Scoville, JoAnn Beaulieu, Eileen Pobuda. Faculty advisor is Mr. Harold J. De Pianta.

The Tunxis Yearbook is a written and pictorial album published annually for the graduating class of W.H.S. as a remembrance of their high school years. Within the pages of this yearbook, the 1966 Tunxis Staff has tried to capture some of the most memorable events that have taken place at W.H.S. in the classrooms, in the corridors, and on the playing field. Divided into numerous committees, the staff has worked diligently in preparing page layouts and copy, collecting and labeling photographs, typing and editing the material, creating the necessary art work, soliciting advertisements, and, finally, meeting the deadlines set by the publisher.

In many ways, the 1966 TUNXIS has differed radically from previous Windsor High yearbooks — and proudly so. The most notable change in this book is the addition of a twelve-page, duotone opening section, which establishes the mood of the entire book — a mood of continuous action. Another unprecedented feature may be found within the Senior Section; this year's TUNXIS has abandoned the insignificant write-ups traditionally found under Senior pictures. We have, instead, attempted to capture the more memorable moments of this past year in the numerous candids which appear throughout the Senior Section. In coming years, we hope that WHS yearbooks will continue to follow this progressive trend by placing increased emphasis on the combination of factual, significant copy and meaningful pictures, which recount experiences, convey emotions, and recall countless memories.

With a deep feeling of accomplishment we look back on the work that has produced this yearbook — on the trials, the decisions, and the rewards. With an enthusiastic feeling of anticipation, we envision the many roads of progress still to be travelled by future yearbook staffs at WHS. And finally, with a sincere feeling of pride we close this album of memories and present it to you, the Class of 1966, with the fond hope that, as you open it again in years to come, it will rekindle your cherished memories of these wonderful years.
